

Established June 1980

Times change, and we change with them.

In a move to consolidate all its operating companies around the world, the Construction Chemicals Division of Sandoz AG Switzerland has been renamed MBT, which stands for Master Builders Technologies.

In Singapore, the emergence of MBT is a result of the consolidation of Sandoz Master Builders and Ceilcote. MBT Singapore is now part of a worldwide network of companies specialising in the development and manufacture of specialty chemical products for use in the construction industry.

The consolidation has also made MBT Singapore the single source supplier for all your construction chemical needs in Admixtures, Grouts, Floor Protection Systems, Concrete Repair Systems, Waterproofing Systems, Corrosion Control Systems and Air Pollution Control Systems.

Our names and identities may have been changed, but our commitment to customer satisfaction and product reliability remains unchanged. It's our chemistry of products, service, research and people dedicated to meeting the challenges of tomorrow that is associated with the MBT symbol, which stands for leadership and outstanding competence in the construction chemical industry worldwide.

Construction chemicals for the future.

While some athletic shoe companies pay pop stars millions to appear in their TV commercials, we at New Balance direct our resources elsewhere: toward our shoes.

It's a philosophy that led us to recruit a professor from MIT for our research team. Which, in turn, led us to develop the M677: a performance shoe that supports the foot as well as it cushions it.

Grandmaster Speaks

Another milestone reached in the Seletar Guzzlers' history or rather two. We just celebrated our 11th anniversary and now it is our 600th run.

I am very glad to say Guzzlers are still going strong with many of our founder members still actively involved in the club.

I am sure that hashers who have run with us on Tuesday will agree that we are still a fun club to run with in true hash tradition.

It gives great pleasure to see so many of you come and join us in this auspicious event.

The organising committee has worked very hard for the event and your presence here over the weekend will definitely make it a success.

I wish to thank the organising committee for the enormous effort put in and all hashers present for your support.

Let's really have a fun filled hashing weekend that we will remember for a long time.

Editor's Say

For reasons unknown even to our founding fathers, Seletar Hash House Harriers has, over the years, adopted its centenary runs for special celebration - in keeping, one might reasonably surmise, with the club's tradition of awarding a suitable trophy to every member, albeit only when suitably seated for a "down-town" on the ice, who has completed his centenary runs with the club

Thus, whilst other hash clubs may emphasise their anniversaries, or 69 or 777 runs, Seletar Hash celebrated its 100, 200, 300, 400, and 500th runs - always in style, with extravaganza and extravagance, and thrown open to other hashers from Malaysia and Singapore as our invited guests.

All our runs are reported in our weekly newsletters (for circulation to members only) but the celebration runs are further recorded for history in our souvenir magazines.

We now report our 500th run as we welcome you to join us celebrate our 600th. As is our fashion, this souvenir magazine also serves as our club's "year book", as we update and report on our current membership, run counts, harelines, internal celebrations and inter- club events

You will also read about Seletar Hash in its finest - when raising funds for charity. These reports, written by our erstwhile talented members, have been retrieved from club archives which would otherwise be lost forever.

What is now published for your reading pleasure is more than a souvenir programme of yet another celebration event. Produced by hashmen, as only hashmen reduced to quips can, no offence is meant — even when the hash conjures up a poor image with the public.

Reduced to basics (i.e. with no pretence) when we come to the hash , may not have the same connotation as our Grandmaster Popeye's " Back to the Basics " year.

But make no mistake here. There is nothing intellectual in the hash - just run, just drink, just sing - the total activity.

Do you still doubt the raindrops falling on the eaves ?

And even if this be our 600th run (whether the long, short or medium), every run is a good run. The mystique - as all hash runs are, and which is why I run on the hash - setting forth each time on an unknown journey, not knowing until knowing becomes the experience. Let Seletar be your experience.

As the actress willingly said to the bishop: " Have an orgasm and be my guest. "

The Singapore Hash House Harriers (founded 1962) wish to congratulate you on attaining your 600th Run.

This is a real milestone since one reflects that our founder Ian Cumming, in 1962, when proposing our first run to some 'like-minded' drinkers, doubted whether there was sufficient country in Singapore to support even one regular Hash run per week.

We look forward to your increasing years.

MESSAGE

Being your typical Hasher, I cannot vouch for the accuracy, authenticity, literacy or novelistic value of this article - so it goes

Hashing in Singapore began way back in the early sixties with John O' Rourke leading the first 'other' pack off into the jungle (and frequently leading most of them out again). Bioengineering enables John to continue leading them off and after twenty nine years of it, has set an enviable example.

October '73 saw Ratnam's dream realised with the advent of ladies running Hash in Singapore. Our own Kamela 'Sybil' Chellum being the first Harriet Hare for Run 24 and, apprenticeships served, Caryl Gurney appointed as first Grand Mistress on Run 102.

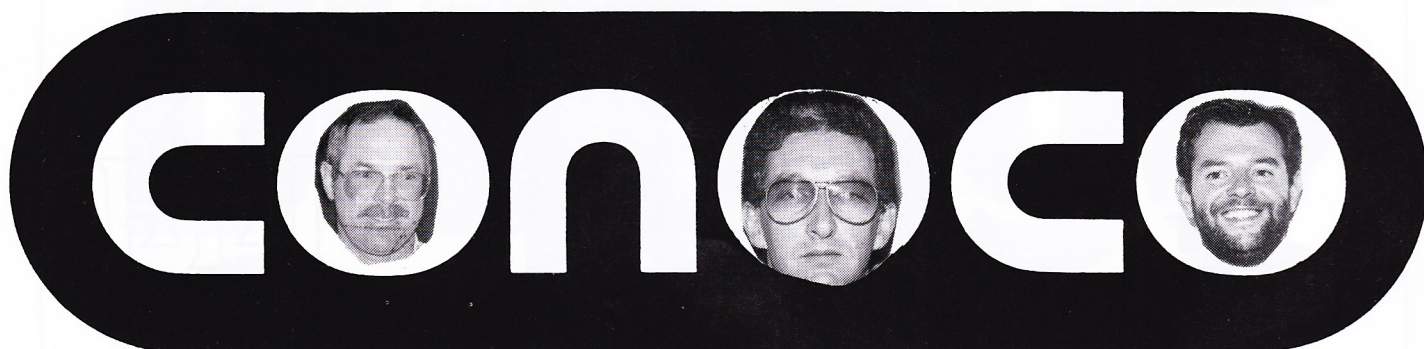

In 1980. Seletar Hash House Harriers was formed, ably led by James Sandosham. Lion City H3 with Veronica Nally and Mike Cockman up front, kicked off in 1982.

Celebrating its 850th run, Singapore H3 broke from tradition by inviting the Harriets to join them. Needless to say, restrictions did apply, the hares being instructed to lay a trail for the ladies that was separate from the gentlemen. In true Aussie style a solution was soon found - from the S.I.C.C. two trails were set down - one for the ladies and one for the gentlemen - never more than a meter apart for the entire eight kilometers. The constitution was not compromised, boundries were not crossed but clearly, a gate had been left unlocked.

Over the ensuing years each club has enjoyed the support of its sister and brother clubs in celebrating milestones. The Singapore Hash House Harriets congratulate Popeye's gang in reaching 600 runs - we come prepared to enjoy.

We, the Grand Masters of the Lion City Hash House Harriers are pleased to offer congratulations to Seletar Hash House Harriers on the occasion of their 600th Run.

The growth of hashing in Singapore has been phenomenal and we are delighted to be able to join with you in celebrating this milestone.

Seletar have always offered excellent hashing at an affordable price and are also renowned for their charity runs and similar events: an excellent lesson to us all on how to combine a very "original" pastime with a strong sense of social conscience.

Lion City will, always, have a strong presence, probably around the bar, and will naturally support you fully in all the weekend's events as long as they are limited to Drinking Beer, Singing, Drinking Beer, Running, Drinking Beer, Drinking Beer, etc.

Gentlemen!

Congratulations on the occasion of your 600th Run, which so neatly co-incides with the period of celebration of Singapore's own National Day.

As it is also the 200th Run of the Hash House Horrors, I have been asked to write a little about the history of the Horrors. The Club was formed about a year and a half after Seletar's formation. Two of the founding members were Meg and Paul Jackson, who had moved to Singapore from Penang and Kuala Lumpur where they had enjoyed running with clubs similar to the Horrors. Our first run was in November 1981, and was, like Lion City's inauguration some years later, at Sime Road roundabout! We stood the children on the raised bank in order to get a good first-run photograph!

Far the first three years or so we ran once a month, but the pressure from the kids, and the parents who found it a good way to keep the kids occupied caused us to go bi-monthly. Attendance hovered around 40-60 and at about the same time we felt the need to regularise our situation. We were always a low-budget organisation. Fees per-member per-run were just $5, and is still only $6, and we could not afford the cost of full Societies registration. As more than one-third of the parents were Seletar families, we made the historic application at a Seletar AGM to be "adopted" as a legal offshoot of Seletar, and that has been the case since about 1984. We are very grateful to the successive Seletar committees and have tried to show it in using our small surpluses to buy fund-raising advertisements in Seletar Hash publications from time to time. Our most recent contribution was $1000 in February / March 1991 towards the Seletar Charity Fund which we raised by a children's sale and cash from guest fees and parent's food money.

In recent years attendance has rocketed. It peaked at a totally unmanageable 149 children, and has settled down to average 100, typically 80 members and 20 guests. We currently have 114 paid-up child members and a six-month waiting list! But not for Seletar familiers, of course, who are given preferential treatment.

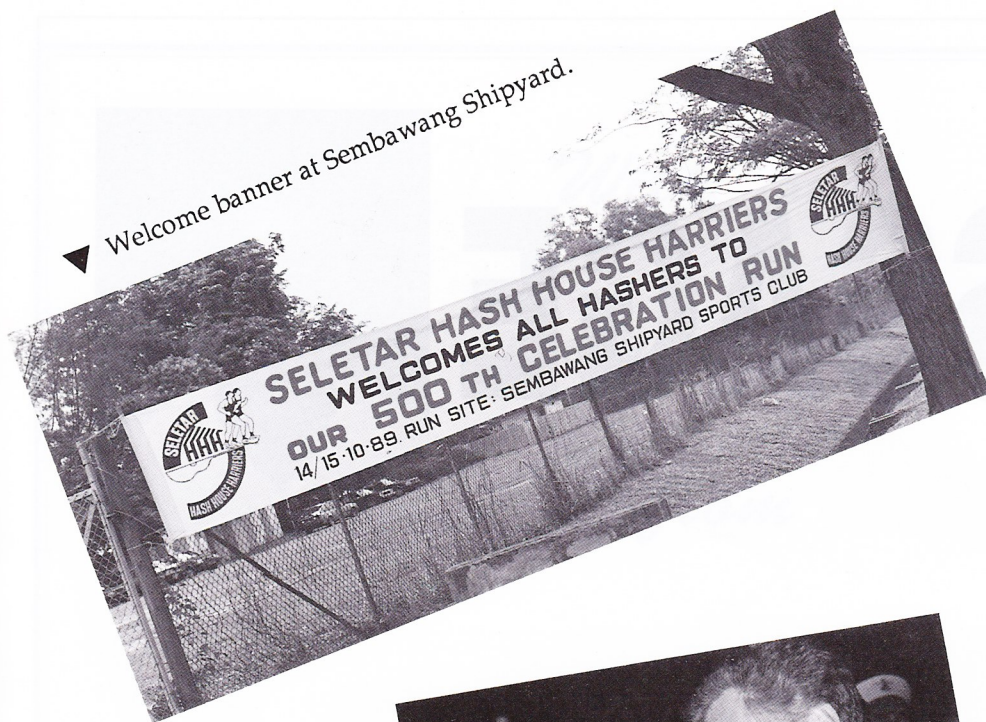

We are still oriented towards kids under 10-12 years old. By the time the kids are 12+ they usually want to do something else, which is as it should be. Meanwhile we will continue to run it as a children's party - balloons, the runs (20 or 40 minutes), food, ice-cream and games. If you haven't been to see what it's all about, then come and see us one weekend.

We start at 4.30pm on alternate Sundays, and we have a permanent arrangement with Mr Hoe for food and Mr Tan for beer and soft-drinks.

HAPPY HASHING SELETAR, from the Horrors of Seletar, and Singapore!

LOOKING BACK: '90

Seletar Hash House Harriers lived up to its reputation as a hyperactive hash chapter. During the last 12 months the Committee organised close to a dozen special major events.

1 Dumpling Run - Seletar's Chinamen, for the first time, hosted a 'Dumpling Run' in place of the ever popular Chinese New Year Run. The event together with a great show by Chinamen and with, Karaoke along, was held on a Saturday at Sembawang Sports Club.

2 10th Anniversary Run in Johor Bahru was another 'first' achieved to have our Club's birthday celebration outside Singapore. More than 60 members and 20 guests from Johor Bahru chapters attended. A grand dinner was held at the Straits Garden Restaurant.

3 Car Rally - This was a family event which saw 35 cars being flagged off at Whitley Road fringe car park and ending with a sumptuous lunch and plenty of booze at West Coast Park.

4 Injunite '90 - The ingenuity and generosity of the Mamas and Bhayees were on show. The invited wives, girlfriends, Filipinas - Sri Lankans - Indian maids, grandmothers and social escorts helped make short-work of the sumptuous spread. A terrific evening except for the arrival of the men-in blue.

5 Quadripartite Hash Rendevous III - A glittering event comprising of four hash chapters bashing up in Johor Bahru. This event was self-funded by 160 attending hashers and Seletar came away richer with profits from sales of souvenir beer mugs.

6 Relay Run to Batu Pahat. Some 30 enthusiastic members made mince meat of the distance from Singapore to Batu Pahat in an over-night run. The group had an enjoyable stay at the Government Rest House and attended the BP's celebration run in the evening.

7 The Annual Dinner & Dance was touted as a Christmas function but minus the snow as it was held in November. Anyway, snow or no snow, 109 attending members and wives had a great bash.

8 A family weekend at the Rhio's Karrimum Island. Attended by some 35 members and families. It was a great weekend with plenty of fresh sea-food and booze. Also a song was born, entitled 'Karrimum Island' by King Kong.

9 Charity Run - This year's charity programme was geared for the Handicaps Welfare Association and was made up of three segments.

1. Kampong Nite - A buffet dinner, dance and auction at Yishun Country Club.
2. A relay run round the island by all members.
3. Auction after a normal Tuesday run. And the target of $40,000 was met. Latest count revealed that more than $63,000 was netted.

10 Committee Run - or better known as 'The finishing line'. A one-way run was set through Ulu Sembawang's vast farming area and ending at Track 16 off Mandai Road. A grand eat-out dinner, with suckling pigs, was thoroughly enjoyed.

Events that were organised on a smaller scale on normal Tuesdays but no means less colourful were:-

1. Yankee Day Run
2. Kwailoh Special
3. St Andrew's Day Run
4. Lantern Festival
5. 555 Special
6. Guy Fawkes Day Run
7. Brewery Run
8. Australia Day Run at Pulau Ubin
9. Waitangi Day Run

Seletar Hash House Harriers' present membership is 126. During the year 27 new boots were admitted and 22 members have either resigned or defaulted.

With this year's subscriptions collected and our frugal spending, we will be handing over to the new Committee a very healthy kitty.

Well, this has been a truly hectic year and we are thoroughly exhausted. We are glad a new team is taking over from us and we look forward to another great year.

Annual Hash Awards, 1989 - 1991

Accolades & Booby Prizes

At our annual Dinner & Dance, we highlight good runs, good scribe reports, etc, and we also highlight the worst run. Selection of the winners is indeed very subjective; and luck plays a big part. If you did not win any award, take it in a sporting manner; and better luck next time.

In this tongue-in-cheek write-up, we list the "finalists" and the winner in each section is indicated.

Run 556 Ichibawasan & John Blair: 16 Oct 90
Off Mandai Rd, adjacent to Lorong Tulin's run 539. Years of experience showed with checks, and not going in the obvious direction.

Run 560 Fer & Skidmarks: 6 Nov 90
Chong Pang Village. Hares took us to areas not usually found. Only vegi farmer with concrete paths.

BEST FOOD AT RUNSITE

Run 510 Chicken Shit & Shortee Roo: 19 Dec 89
Run around Shortee's backyard, then makan at Shortee's frontyard. Full of Christmas spirits.

Run 537 Squealing Pig & TwinkleToes: 12 June 90
After Sentosa, makan at Jardine Steps carpark. Makan arrived late, and mostly memorable from the speed at which it arrived: curried chicken at 100kmph

Run 553 Fatimah, Opto & Messy: 25 Sept 90
Food to keep the SAF going in time of crisis. Mutton brayani warming us up, for on-on-on at the Sergeants' Mess.

Run 562 Hans Solo & First Blood: 20 Nov 90
A concerted effort by Hans Solo to show off his culinary skills at the TigerBrewery. Chapatti and savory rice served with three curries!

BEST EAT OUT

Run 536 Brother & Slimy Duck: 5 June 90
Admiralty Club. Great location, good food but a particular premium on being early in the line of the limited quantity served.

Run 538 Press Once, Guzzler & Gigi: 19 June 90
The Club's 10th Anniversary celebration, held at Johor Baru. For those who ran the gauntlet of immigration, customs, etc, great food and novel entertainment.

Run 560 Fer & Skidmarks: 6 Nov 90
At Chong Pang Village, first five course were Aussie beer, putting all in the right mood. Then on-on to Yishun Seafood Village. Lots of food. But aerial warfare should not be encouraged.

BEST ON ON ON

Run 536 Brother & Slimy Duck: 5 June 90

After the eatout at Admiralty Club, after the fracas in the swimming pool, the drinking and singing developed lustily.

Run 552 King Kong & Jimmy Mohan: 18 Sept 90
Beer wagon arrived late. On-on-on to King Kong's Jazz On. Particular boozy evening when everyone ended up on stage.

Run 553 Fatimah, Opto & Messy: 25 Sept 90
Sergeants' Mess. Hashmen into 60's time warp. Plenty of beer & spirits, roof over our head, and military protection.

BEST SCRIBE REPORT

Run 528 Jimmy Mohan: 17 Apr 90
Upper Pierce Reservoir. Jimmy assessed the average IQ of readers and opted for photo graphs.

Run 538 Marlin: 19 June 90
10th Anniversary run at Johor Bahru. Purple prose, recorded for posterity the 10th anniversary run

Run 555 Hacker: 9 Oct 90
Dempsey Rd. Main merit of this scribe report was the educational content on how to speak Singlish

WORST RUN

Run 521 Dentista & Raymond Tan: 27 Feb 90
Jalan Kayu. Only 4 persons on paper, and beer wagon was very late.

Run 531 Char Kwai Teow & Thai Pussy: 8 May 90
Seletar West Farmway 10. No paper. Dunkin & Sucker took 3hr, still not on paper.

Run 545 2ndhand Pussy & Cinderella: 31 July 90
Arul's farewell run. Hashmen meeting in the woods, having run on paper from opposite ends. Only a life member approximate the finish.

OTHER AWARDS

The Greatest Disappointment Award
Run 519 AYDZ, Pissing Wet & Mindy: 20 Feb 90
The Kiwi run. Live hares. It might have been a dodo.

The Malayan Railway Award
Run 529 2ndhand Pussy & Spiderman: 23 Jan 90
Finishing in darkness on railway line.

The Wilson Car parking Award
Run 539 Hari-hari Gang Bang & U-turn: 26 June 90
A quagmire at Lorong Tulin for a car park.

It was Special Run but low-key affair, lah, from Dempsey Road car park. Normally Seletar don' run from such a place, leave it for Lion City or lady hash, but what to do, lah? Never mind. Got no mud, got busa-driver shower. You come early, even got durian seller. Also, everybody know 555 Run also got T-Shirt.

Run start on time, okay. Everybody run off down some lorong. I huffing and puffing and thinking this one got to be plenty tiring, lah, lot of road runnings. Seem like we running forever before come to first check. Then seem like we stand around forever so FRBs can look for paper. Finally find, go off again on different lorong. Pretty soon, run go down hill and into ditch. Wah! Got bees! Allah Mak! SCB run plenty fast now! Worse of all, Whip get stung and plenty piss off. Hashmen all run away from him. Now everybody stumbling and fumbling around in ditch, got mud, got fucking bees, lah. Barbie wire also got. Now what happen to road run, meh? Hashmen all bitch at got no road to run. This kelab quite funny, you know?

Okay, lah. In spite of wildlifes, it do turnout mostly road run. Never mind. Hares do give T-Shirt, but give it forty-seven km. from car park. Get to carry all way back. Anyway, it's good T-Shirt, quite pretty, you know. All cottons, nice and soft. Wife take one look, steal from me, lah. Most Seletar Hashmens don' have many T-Shirt, wah.

I tell you, already, whip plenty piss off. Allah Mak, he go through Seletar Hashmen like Seletar Hashmen go through Patpong disco. Everybody standing around on stump because cut off at knee, lah. This lumpy kwailoh, TURNKEY or something, get four down-down, lah? Myyy Got! Never mind, look like he done before. Somehow, everybody survive, lah.

Wah! Makan good, lah. Mr. Ho cook good. One kwailoh tell me he have Ho pork ribs three nights straight, still like. He got one in each hand when he say this, so I think so. Chicken also can. Plenty food, and good, lah.

Actually, you know, a good night for everybody. I eat and drink plenty, and when time to go for Mad Dog pub, I go home instead, lah. These Chinamen hares make something good from not much parts, lah. You know, lah, it is the friends what make it good more than the money, meh?

10TH ANNIVERSARY RUN

*Run 538 19.6.90
Location: Johore Bahru
Hares: GIGI, GUZZLER, PRESS-ONCE*

The "Dumpling Run" started it. Our Chinese members, plus the one honorary Chinaman Guzzler reminded us that some of our club can provide a good run, great food and tremendous entertainment for the rest of the members.

The example they set had had it's effect. Seletar H³ runs are getting better.

The miserable, uninspired, paperless runs of earlier this year are now behind us and we are now setting well-laid runs with plenty of paper, good use of the terrain, and well planned checks. Our 10th. birthday run was another example of a Seletar H³ "Bloody Good Run".

The hares Gigi, Guzzler and Press-Once, advised by Walter from JB H³, laid the run amid the rubber plantations to the West of JB at Taman Perling.

At the start, the pack consisted of 10 or so hashers from JB and only around 40 from Seletar. The trail started off up a steep grass bank and then, 50m on, back down the damn thing again (expletive!), round a bend and into the rubber. It was my first run in Johor, but once you've seen one rubber tree with a begging bowl you've seen them all. I suggested to Leon "Nuts" Lui that if one dipped a certain part of one's anatomy into the latex and allowed it to dry you could have customised condoms. Nuts liked this idea so much that he iced me for it (2 expletives).

The first check came after 5 minutes running, and was quickly broken by the pack, so we were soon off and running again. Our senior member Ichibawasan (HLK to you sir) showed his experience by jumping a short plank bridge over a cruddy little ditch. Me, being less athletic and not quite as bright, tried to run over it. It broke, and landed me in the stinking mud.

More hard running through the endless rubber trees and oil palm brought two more good checks with the remainder of the pack all together. Then, at the edge of a tarmac road, we found the fourth check. This took some time to break and dispersed the pack. When we started running again we were in four groups. Cotex, Fairy, Jim Carroll and other athletes in the lead pack. Irian Jaya, Ichibawasan, Second-hand Pussy and myself as the mid-pack, then the end pack and, somewhere off in the distance, the SCBs walking their own trail to be first back to be the beer.

On the in-run, the trail crossed a wide, deep and sh*tty stream with no bridge (double expletive!!). Some brave souls were getting ready to wade or swim across when a call from a helpful hasher (Ichibawasan again) led us to a tangle of saplings higher up the stream which the lighter members of the pack were able to scramble across and keep our boots dry. Someone behind wasn't so lucky. We heard a crack of breaking branches and a prophetic cry of "OSh*t" as he dropped into the stream. No one was hurt, just a little wetter.

A last, we were on the long run-in to the beer wagon with the monkeys and insects starting their evening choruses through the plantations. The falling dusk, dread of being lost in the maze of rubber for the night, and the thought of the beer gave us strength to keep running. The FRBs must have been back in about 1hr. plus. The pack was all in by 1hr. 15 min. collecting our souvenir tee shirts from Press-Once.

A good run, a happy circle (except for the hash-bard for the night who was so bad that he should not be allowed to play again) and then on to the eat-out at Straits Gardens Seafood Restaurant looking across to the straits to our more usual hashing country around Mandai Reservoir. It was good Chinese makan, chicken, prawns, fish, baby kang kong, fried mee, fried rice and more, lots of minum² and all for free! Thanks hares, Happy Birthday Seletar H³.

11TH ANNIVERSARY RUN

Scribe: MUFFDIVER

Run 594 4.6.91

Location: Lorong Terigu

Hares: OPERA, SAI BABA,
TOMATO Gan

So, 11 years of Seletar hashing and hares such as Opera, Sai Baba and Tomato Gan to lay this celebration run - that promised to be either a lousy lun lah or a colossal cock-up.

A sizeable crowd was attracted to Lorong Terigu off Holland Rd. to indulge in the Hash-foreplay of watching each other slipping into jock-straps and running shorts, discussing the features and prices of their running shoes, elaborating on the tits of the neighbour's wife and per-fumigation with "off". Satisfied with one another's stories and smelling of bug-repellant, the pack set off punctually at 6:00 pm, led by such avid front runners as Peter Sellers and Wingnut.

Down the dirt track we went and around the monsoon drainage where Hans Solo was already looking an adequate way to short cut and ON to the junk yard with the three legged dogs to the first check.

The entire pack had arrived in the junk yard - much to the terror of the dogs, no sooner ON ON was called through the undergrowth, tumbling and slipping down the embankment onto the train tracks. Along the tracks we ran only to climb back into the jungle 200 yards down the line. In the sweaty scramble up the embankment the front runners managed to stir up a hornets nest whose inhabitants now proceeded to descend onto the likes of Toddy Mama and Winnie the Pooh successfully causing chaos in midfield.

The next check, a very clever 'Opera special' back-track, got the pack together again, sending them like a thundering mass of beef down Clementi Road and into King Albert Park.

In this quaint little neighbourhood the third check provided the setting for a typical scene of the Hash at rest - not checking! Steaming and puffing, some were pissing on trees while others were breaking wind and belching up their beef-noodle lunch. "Ooh, my surgical truss has split", "my dicky leg is playing up" and "Ah, I can smell the beer - oh no it's Syphilis just taking a piss" were just some of the comments that found grunts of approval.

ON ON ON was called past Bukit Timah Station with guests picking up Ichibawansan's bad habit of calling "f the Whip". Past a construction site and into some good shiggy and ON to the big temple with the last check in the monsoon drain.

The very clever among us with IQs of a little more than an empty beer can - Cinderella and Mr. Guinness to name only a few - headed into the drainage and up the other side only to find a perfect foot bridge 50 yards down the track. ON to Holland Rd. where the SCBs joined us for the last Km in on road and to pick up their T-Shirts.

Back at the beer truck Pale Rider, Robin Hood, Guzzler and others had already engaged in a full session of beer tasting - just to make sure the beer had not gone bad while we were out hashing. Whip take note, such charitable behaviour should be iced as a token of appreciation!

All in a good workout in a tight area - yeah that's always the best - and well worthy of our 11th Anniversary celebration.

SELETAR 500TH CELEBRATION RUN

Weekend of 14-15 October 1989

Location:

Sembawang Shipyard Sports Complex

Hares: Kim AYDZ Mathews &

DOUGHNUT (Duncan Smith)'s Reports

Arriving at the car park at around 4:00 pm I was immediately impressed by the turnout of cars and buses and the rate at which the car park was rapidly filling up. As promised by our venerable Grand Master Fatso Fer, the whole world was indeed turning up for our celebration run. Cars, buses and hashers of all ages, shapes and colours were in evidence everywhere.

The run-site itself seemed to be very well organised and the registration booths were being effectively manned by SH3 volunteers. Everyone was given a plastic wrist identification tag of the type that I believe they affix to babies or to dead bodies. Observing a mountain of beer in the distance, I could understand their relevance! Approaching the high-security area where the beer was stacked and cordoned off, I was impressed at the selfless dedication of so many SH3 volunteers to the task of guarding these vital stocks. 122 cases of beer were counted and obviously provision had been made for suitable celebration. Flanking one side of the field were a variety of foodstalls and on the other was a huge stage on which notices such as "The Magnificent 7 go Broadway", "The Tiffany Show", and "The One Man-Woman Show" were being pinned. Obviously food and entertainment had been given top priority by the committee. In front of the sports house, various entrepreneurs took the opportunity to set up their stalls. Meanwhile our venerable GM was walking around with a microphone going "testing, testing" from all corners of the site, whereas back at the beer mountain our selfless volunteers were now indulging in a lot of "tasting, tasting".

The Long Run

(Hares: Two Balls & Life Buoy)

Everything seemed to be so well organised and everyone seemed to be happy that it seemed a pity to spoil it all with running. However at 5:00 the long run was called and the FRB's/ the foolish/ the hard of hearing headed for the buses. Three buses turned out to be rather ambitious as only 70 brave souls decided to go for the long run. When Two Balls was asked by a harriette about the length of the runs he answered "Short run 40 minutes, Medium run 60 minutes, Long run 6 weeks". At least the weather was kind as after blazing sunshine at mid-day it had become cool, dull and overcast with a suggestion of rain. Ideal weather for a long run!

The run started off down Stephen Lee Road with the pack closely bunched together until we came to an uphill track which had to be negotiated in single file. After a lengthy run through orchid plantations we came to the first check inside a derelict building. Checking obviously could not be done forward so the grumbling FRB's had to backtrack, which had the desired effect of closing up the pack.

Checking was enthusiastic and the pack well spread out when the trail was discovered on a track up behind the 1st check. The trail inevitably took us on a long downhill track through more orchid plantations and out on to a tarmac road, where upon a long slogging road run commenced arriving at the 2nd check at the gateway to a Chinese temple. The pack was again well strung out, so it was fortunate that there was a lot of confusion on the checking. At this point, there was a lot of calling "on on" negated by the sweeper hares calling "old paper, old paper". Confusion reigned supreme when "on-back" was called - by the hares to overcome the confusion - and the pack set off again.

The trail again took a downward track through the jungle where we came upon the first of many ponds. Once over the crossing, it was a straightforward run through ponds and bush arriving out at the 3rd check. Checking choices were three roads, but the FRB's had come and gone and no paper was in evidence. "On-on" was called down the left road, where we came upon the callers - the hares Two Balls and Lifebuoy - indulging in a spot of torture, sitting guzzling cold Carlsbergs at a roadside shop. We were tempted to stop, but were told that we had a l-o-n-g way to go. The trail headed left down yet another track leading into big ponds and vegetable fields.

When we came out of the jungle we found ourselves on Lorong Pikat where we lost paper. The trail was picked up and we resigned ourselves to a long walk home as at that point it got dark (7:15) and running/seeing the wet paper became difficult. However once we came out beside a canal, the trail took us on a nice long run along the side of the canal leading out on to Admiralty Road West. From there it was on-home and I arrived back at the run-site at 7:45 - knackered!

The "Circle"

The early part of the entertainment was the usual SH3 style circle, GM Fatso Fer commenced the proceedings with a mass "down-down" on stage followed by a few celebration runners with tankards being presented. The Whip followed and inevitably put Broken Promises on the ice. Obviously the Whip had intended to continue for some time, but even he had to bow to public pressure - due to the fact that no-one was listening as they were all in the queues for food - and called "on to the makan" to a rapturous response.

The Makan

There was a wide variety of food even for the most discerning of palates - Mr. Ho's special chicken rice, noodles, rice, rojak and of course, oyster omelette. Who will ever forget the oyster omelette? I hadn't even had a chance to get near the stall when the bloody thing went up in flames. Renowned SCB's were seen running(!) in all directions as the propane gas cylinders threatened to go up, which would have taken all the other foodstalls with them. Obviously Ice hadn't been up for his makan as he made a foolish but brave dash in with a bucket of water to douse the flames. Luckily for him it did! The scavengers were soon back at the troughs and "fourth round" seemed to be the order of the night.

The Show

Seletar proved themselves once again to be the masters of entertainment, and put on a full variety programme for their guests. The mood was set by the grand entrance of the M. C. for the evening, Martin Baptist, who was resplendent in a kilt and accompanied by his very own personal piper!

Cashing in on the 60's nostalgia craze going around town, the first performer was Wrong Size of whom it was suggested (unkindly) that he was the winner of the 1967 Talentime Contest. His rendering of various ballads in Mandarin had the audience going.

The next act woke the audience as Mad Dog made his entrance in an outrageously structured costume obviously borrowed from Johore Road and proceeded to carry out a duet with a dancing prick. Talk about an in-character performance! Those who moved closer to get a better view were rewarded with a soaking as Mad Dog and Prick reached the "climax" of their song.

There followed a monologue from Opera dressed in a pair of his Chinese pyjamas. I was esconced at the dwindling beer mountain at this point and thus couldn't hear much of the monologue, but he was also well received.

Next came Shades who had resurrected his "One Man-Woman" act. Not many were fooled - particularly as he was caught in mid-turn by the over-zealous lighting man - but everyone enjoyed the act immensely with a crush of enthusiastic supporters at the front of the stage eager to see his female half.

There followed a performance by the Seletar Indians as they performed a traditional Indian dance under the name of "Oh Calcutta". Closer inspection of the troupe revealed a few anomalies in the form of Marlin and Billy Slick and the choreography seemed a bit loose. However all performed with gusto and were enjoying themselves in their colourful costumes and make-up!

Then came the serious business in the form of the Boat Race. After what seemed to be a surprising lack of enthusiasm Seletar Guzzlers were matched against the P.J. Animals, the Guzzlers fielding Champ (of course), Syph, Ice and Chicken Shit. The race was short and sharp with the Guzzlers demonstrating their superiority in this event. Syph was so keen to win that he cracked a tooth with the clay pot! The next act was the chinamen's "The Magnificent Seven go Broadway" number. Eight (of course) black and white minstrels performed. The audience responded enthusiastically to their act of bare-assed cheek! A fine act and in the best Seletar tradition.

There followed the highlight act of the evening by way of a special performance of "The Tiffany Show from Pattaya" excellently staged by our own Wrong Size and a troupe of professional entertainers. Seletar had obviously spared no expense in providing rich entertainment! All of the acts were performed in the best transvestite/camp tradition, and two were quite outrageous.

The last novelty act to appear was the Kwai Loh's "Dick and the Dangers" in the form of Pissing Wet. Irian Jaya and Dirty Hacker. Their rendering of a "Nuts" song complete with instruments was well received. Each had his "nuts" hanging out at the bottom of his shorts, although Hacker should have been in some pain as both his nuts were hanging down one leg. Perhaps that explained his singing!

The final of the Boat Race followed between the Seletar Guzzlers, an

All-Asia Team and the P.J. Animals (by popular demand). Seletar's team was as before and were not at their best or were being diplomatic. The Animals were easy winners with the All-Asia coming second.

The last act of the night was our very own Syph and his Sores and they performed various hash songs in a variety of blues/rock/country styles. The performance was dedicated to Smoothie Ang. A disco followed until the early hours of the morning and some brave souls went for makan and a few more beers at Adam Road until 4:00am.

The Sunday Sports Day

Games, Footbrawl and Hash Rugby were to be the order of the day with the events kicking off at 10:30am. Anticipating a late start I drifted down at 1:00pm and sure enough the games hadn't yet started, no-one had thought to bring a ball! However - Mr. Tan's beer wagon was there and a big sing-song was in progress. Needless to say the makan was finished.

A ball was found and a game of footbrawl got under way between Seletar and the Rest of the World. The game was slow and furious with the score at half-time 1-0 to Seletar. The second half produced even more dubious refereeing and thus the full-time score was 4-4. Interminable penalties followed and continued until Seletar claimed victory at 8-7 on penalties. Meanwhile, off the field "Uncle Mike" Crotch and Mad Dog were keeping themselves amused by entertaining the kids with games. The Tuesday peanut circle was out in force. Ten couples then took part in an egg-throwing contest to the amusement of the crowd. The best throw was awarded to Hector from Sungei Ujong Hash, who cleared his partner and sent his egg into the crowd. After a few speeches of thanks by Sungei Ujong Hash on the celebration of their club anniversary that day - nobody knew and Seletar had supplied the beer! - the crowd dispersed and some stalwarts headed for the Hare and Hounds Hash Pub to round-off the week-end.

ROUND ISLAND CHARITY

RUN

Run 575 9-10, February, 1991

Run Coordinators: JIMMY Mohan, PERFECT Ting TH, LIE LOW Simon
Report by PERFECT (Ting Thin Hock)

Once a year, Seletar Hashmen go about organising a charity event. This year, the organising committee adopted a medley approach to achieve their objective. Remember the on-site auctions? The Kampong Night? The Horrors' generosity? The round-the-island medley? These events were all jobs well done! Let me share the 12 hours of round-the-island relay with you.

The Road Relay

The Beginning - West Coast Highway Car Park

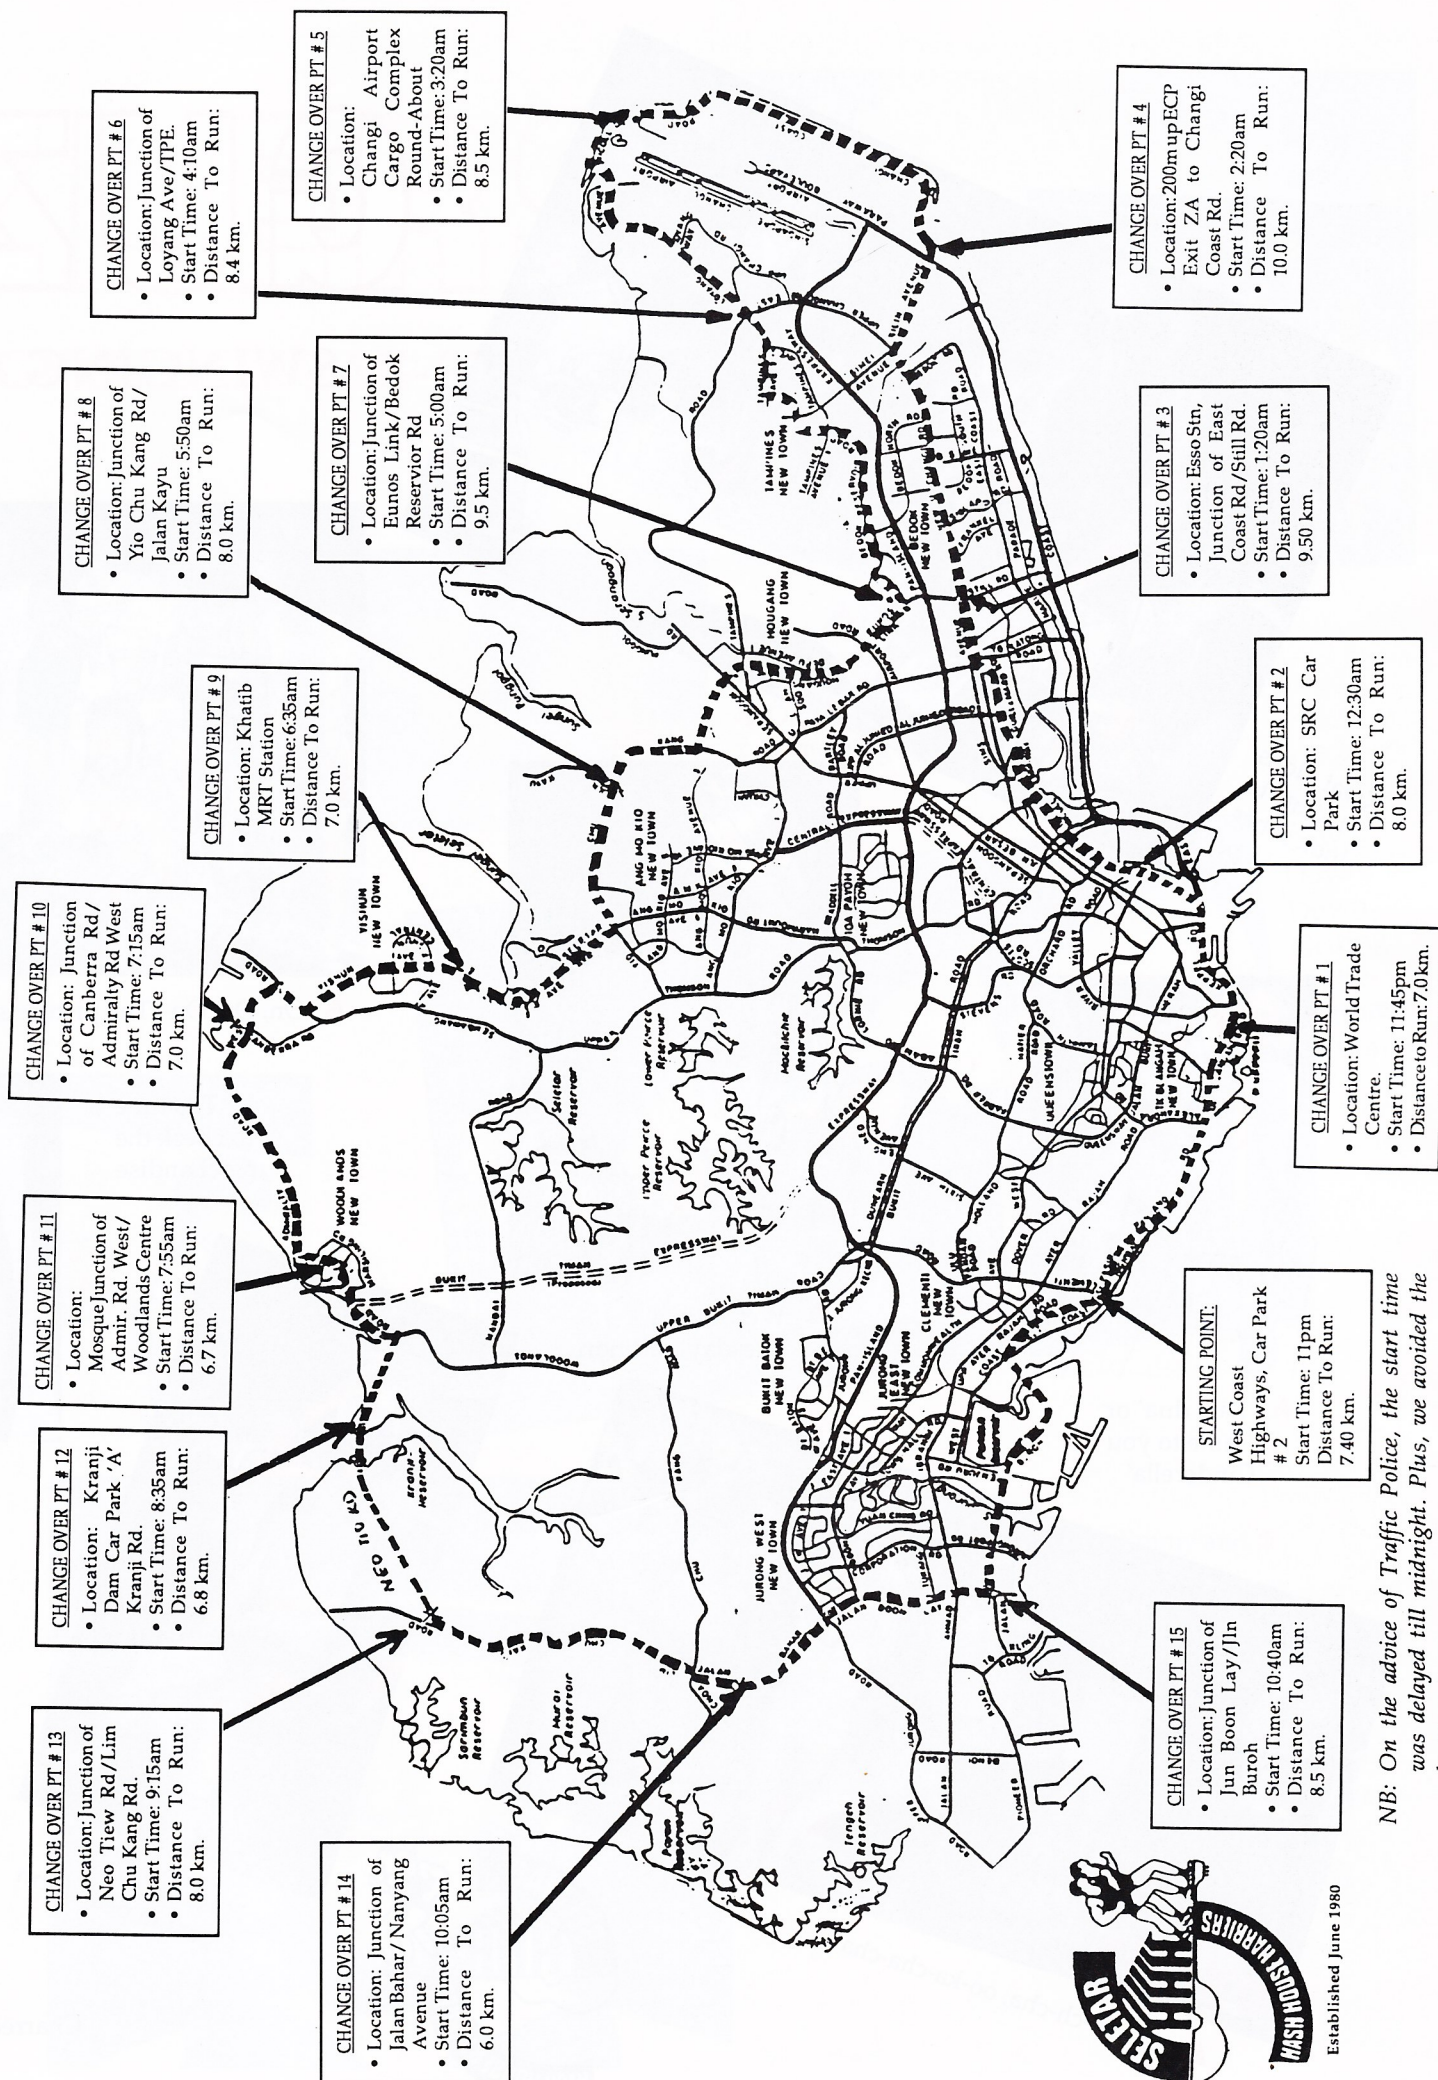

Enthusiastic hashmen, families and girlfriends came early to the starting point waiting for the all night run. Sharp at 1 minute past, 8 runners left West Coast Highway eastwards for WTC. The magnificent 8 set-off steadily as a group. The weather was perfect for a midnight run; cool and windy. Halfway through, the runners began to stretch out with the FRBs; Pertap and Craig Brown leading the pack. Nevertheless, everybody was in good spirit and made it to the change over point. Don't ask me how Hans Solo and Opera did it, but they made it there and on time!

Change Over Point No. 1 - WTC

Too bad, our coordinator Jimmy had to commit our reserve (Baljit Singh) so early to make it a foursome, for the second leg. This group jogged through the quiet downtown CBD via Keppel, Robinson and Connaught Road before handing over the baton at SRC. The four were together all the way. Well Done!

Change Over Point No. 2 - SRC

SRC - "This place sounds familiar, doesn't it?" Messy and Jimmy Mohan. Now we know why SRC was selected

NB: On the advice of Traffic Police, the start time was delayed till midnight. Plus, we avoided the busy expressways.

as the Change Over point. Quiet carpark, but the bar was closed. This group compromised the FRBS except for well, you know who. Even our long absent hashman, Piss Artist showed up! This group took off like a bullet leaving behind 2 stragglers. Whatever the case may be, Mehar completed 60% of the run. As for Piss Artist, slow and steady, he struck along Nicoll Highway, Mountbatten and East Coast Road towards the Change Over point. A standing ovation for Piss Artist for his determination and endurance.

Change Over Point No. 3 - East Coast Road and Still Road Intersection

It was an exclusive Kwaloh affair for this stretch. And for their exclusiveness, they ran 2 extra kilometres. TMCC gate was supposed to be the Change Over point with group No. 5. That was correct. However, there were 2 gates! Lesson learnt, be sure or be confused. Who to blame? God knows! Nevermind, Suku volunteered to sit on the ice on the following Tuesday run.

Change Over Point No. 4 - TMCC Gate (200m after PIE)

This group was 8 men strong, including a marathoner, Peter Lowther from US or Australia? This group had the best deal, only 7.6 km. Suku claimed he measured it 3 times. Now you know the real reason why he was on the ice. At the end of the run, Brown Eye confided in me: "this Kwaloh is really good." I suppose so, he is 1 1/2 times his height and a marathoner!

Change Over Point No. 5 - Changi Airport Cargo

Look at the list, only 3 runners for this leg! But did you know that Nuts nearly run all by himself. Leon was supposed to pick up Albert and Darryl at Europa lounge. But they were not there! Panic? not Nuts; he was cool, and his second attempt was rewarded. The trio tried out a new approach. 'A relay within a relay.' How about that. So, one on the run, two in the car. all way

Change Over Point No. 6 - Loyang Ave/TPE Junction

Encouraged by the new same concept, Jack Foo, the leader of group No. 7 decided to adopt the concept of medley within a medley. With one modification, Steve will do the full run. So you see, two runners all the way.

Change Over Point No. 7 - Junction of Eunus link/Bedok Res Road

Back to normal. The trio of group 8 set off together for their destination. With my 2 children and me, we decided to hit for our destination too - to catch a couple of hours of sleep. Jimmy and his merry men continued to coordinate the run and provide safety.

By the time I hit the road again, Iran Jaya and AYDZ were sprinting along Lim Chu Kang with Pale Rider providing safety. Later learnt this was the fastest stretch.

Change Over Point No. 14 - NTI Entrance

Half a dozen is 6 but no, the whole group was determined to finish the race. The pace was good but the weather extremely hot. Bravo, particularly to James for being so determined and for completing the run. Kichi Bai provided the safety.

The Final Stretch

The mood was one of roaring to go. The group started off together. However, as the runners picked-up speed, like the usual Seletar runs, the pace strung out with Marlin leading. I suppose this is unavoidable especially with the noon heat. By the time the pack reached Car Park 3, a km from home, at least 30 hashmen and their families were eagerly waiting to join in for the final stretch. This was reminiscent of a family run! Cheers and well done to one and all for the final push. All in good cause, for charity.

ROVING REPORT

*Suresh SHOELACE Nair reports on the Jebel Hash, Oman 20th
Independence Day Run, Nov '90*

WANT to screw a camel? The Jebels are a jovial mixed group, running every Saturday. Formed as a breakaway group from Muscat H³ in August '85, they have a group, like Seletar H³ with 120-odd members.

Think of running in the desert? In a country where the beer's as scanty as gold? "I'm not going off doing that bloody silly thing . . ." it's not only my first Gulf phobia but (I was told) of any unaware person on his maiden visit to the Sultanate of Oman (like conservative Saudi Arabia where they're pretty prickly about alcoholics in public).

But the very desperate fervour to freely imbibe the golden liquid in this traditional Arabian territory (with no brewery and only a handful of pubs) prompted me to look up the Jebels - notorious for their brutish stature in the desert after successfully hosting this year's Gulf Inter-Hash in April 1990. Jebels' hashing principle is short and dry: "20 minutes on the flat and then back for the booze."

I was lucky Peter Trudge (the Jebels' JM) picked me up from the hotel (and literally carried me back after midnight, too) as finding the run-site would've been (to urban Singaporeans) like discovering an Oasis in an arid land. The location was a mountainous territory in the outskirts of Muscat (the capital). Honestly, I thought the parched, stony desert-like trail would've killed even a camel or donkey.

I stumbled. I struggled. I slogged . . . just to keep pace with the pack. But what stumped the majority was a rare ON-BACK after three kilometres of meandering, undulating rocky terrain. So back to square one, plodding back home the same bloody way!

Cries of "On beer" (with tongues sticking out like dried leather) desperately reflected the hunger and thirst of the 60-odd group ... and believe me, in the Land of the Arabian Knights, nothing beats a chilled beer on hand. The almost never-ending ON-ON (with sumptuous makan-besar to match) to the wee hours of the morning never made this foreigner feel he was really on the fringe of Saddam Hussein's political scrabble-board.

REFLECTIONS ON HASH LORE

by DEEP THROAT (Robin Sanders),
Seletar Life Member

Once a hashman, always a hashman. Active or not, anyone who can claim to be an ex-hashman obviously wasn't one in the first place! This life member, presently distinctly inactive: after running with many hashes around Asia since 1974, and finding a home with Seletar is proud to consider himself a Seletar Hashman and will remain so for life.

The philosophy of hashing has, with the fitness boom, the emancipation of women and the advent of fax machines, taken a beating in recent years. The traditional Hash, where the running of hash runs and the imbibing of excess quantities of piss with one's male friends, still exist in isolated chapters, exemplified by the SH3.

Every hash chapter develops its own character and hash lore, according to its terrain, its residential surrounds, its degree of exposure to accepted Hash structure, and of course its members. Whether characters create hash lore or hash lore creates characters is a moot point. This is not the same as saying Hashing is a character building experience, as in the Boys Scouts, National Service or Tibetan Lama Training.

Runs pass into hash history, but great runs, or equally memorable hashshit pass into hash lore. As do the people and the particular performance that fixes them in hash lore. Serious attempts to chronicle this lore will always fail, as the scope is too broad and the attention span of the average hashman too short.

The particular act that created any part of hash lore may have been witnessed by but a few at the time, but an instant poll of the world's hashmen would undoubtedly produce many hundreds who actually were there and remember it clearly. This is not a deception or an untruth. This is hash lore, and this belongs to every hashman wherever he was at the time. I, myself, who did attend the Jakarta interhash vividly recall seeing our own Champ winning his name! He is part of hash lore!

D'Drain, when with the Balikpapan hash, (whose wife's poodle was named Sur Sur) who spent years chronicling and confirming hash history and confirmed Gispert was a pom! Most of the hash history we now see printed came from his work!

Pathfinder, a military navigator, who was a hashman for 3 months before he made a run, because he could never find the starting point! Hash Susie who earned his name by introducing what may have been the world's first "hash pussy" to one particular chapter. A lady of whom it might truly be said "She knew (in the biblical sense) the Hash in and out, up and down, back and front." The mind boggles at the thought of the heroic and enthusiastic Susie at an interhash on-on with thousands, rather than the 20 or so hashmen she was used to entertaining.

And Slack'unt who, whilst en route via CX at 30,000ft on the way to Hong Kong for the first interhash, overheard an Aussie lady in the seat in front expounding on the "joy of running." As this lady was also headed for interhash he immediately took it upon himself to explain what hash was really about to her, shortly before being asked to leave by the pilot! Was I there? Was I ever!

So my old friends, even when you don't see me out on Tuesday, the sweat pouring off me, abusing the hares or later, amber fluid in hand, congratulating those same hares: I'm there. Damn right I am!

ROAD RUN TO BATU PAHAT HASH

31 November - 1 December 1990
K9 (See-toh MK) reports:

Starting Point

Mr. Guinness started the relay from Bo Tien Home at 9pm together with a Harriet from Lion City. In Gigi's car which acted as a safety vehicle for the runners, we crossed the causeway in a 45 minutes jam and spotted Hobbie Cat, Chow Kwei Teow, Phil Ying and Lawrence Wong being caught for smuggling Hash goods into Malaysia. Was told later that a M$20.00 fine was imposed on them.

ON! ON! INTO J.B.

Press Once and Nuts carried on from Mr. Guinness in J.B. and later on passed on to Hobbie Cat's team of runners. The Johore Police took over from us in Pontian and escorted Irian Jaya's 3rd team of runners onward. We thank the Johore Police for a very good job done. The last team led by Ichibawasan, Suku, First Blood, Turtle Soup and rest of the earlier runners covered the last few kilometre to arrive at the Batu Pahat Rest house at about 10:30am. ON! ON! TO SELETAR H3.

Our hashers started the 2nd leg of the relay from the Rest House to the run site which was about 23 Km away. The welcome was great as everyone cheered us on. Our GM Sayeting gave a speech and passed back the baton to Batu Pahat H3.

The Batu Pahat 666

About 500 odd hashers from various chapters turned up for the run. There was a long (12km) and a short (6km) run and, of course, I did the short run.

The runs were, as usual, from the palm oil estate into the rubber estate, up and down hills and the long straight run back to the run site. Our "Straight

From The Horse's Mouth" thought that it was a bus run and climbed on board of a bus which was along the long stretch run back to the site. Most of our relay runners still did well during the runs, especially Mr. Guinness, Rama, Irian Jaya and not forgetting Mr. Gigi.

The food was o.k. with chicken rice, carrot cake, fried mee and curry kambing. I wonder: did Seletar franchise out our idea of serving food? If not, GM, shall we send a bill to Batu Pahat H3 for violating the Copyrights?? After the food, it was followed by cultural show and later on Disco! Did anyone stay on till that late?

We are Still The Champ

Of course Seletar H3 is still the best when it comes to a boat race. Our team, Saye-ting, Toddy Mama, First Blood and with a time of 50 second beat all the chapters in the boat race that night. Tanjong Puteri had to be contended for a second place with a time of 58 second. Keep It Up, Seletar!

Many of us left the run site after that and some went to the next hash run in Batu Pahat town, called Fuji Hash.

Now About The Cockup!

Many of us did not have a good night's rest as the rooms were limited and some of us rested on the floor, or sat through the night and some slept in their cars.

At sun rise, coffee, beer and nasi lemak were served and we were told by our lead actor Opera that we need not pay for it as our host would foot the bill. Later, I was told that the Rest House presented someone with a bill of more than M$300.00 for the makan and drinks. I wonder who paid for it?

Everyone was happy when a bag of goodies was handed to us. Then came the surprise! I was told that we were late to register for their run and a late fee of M$20.00 was imposed on us instead of the M$10.00. Can the Interhash Sec. clarify on this?

The Farewell

The usual footbrawl turned out to be a singing session. A little bit better than the "My bonnie" in J. B. Some fish curry and cuttle fish were served. After that, Seletar led by KK and Rama did a number "Singing in the Rain" to bid farewell to Batu Pahat with Mad Dog providing the rain.

Thanks to Dirty Hacker (Interhash Sec.) who organised the run.

DAY

RUN

Run 572 22.1.91

Location: Pulau Ubin

Hares: CINDERELLA, TWINKLETOES, SHORTIE ROO

Scribe: BABYFACE

You older members - remember the Blue Coral run? Remember the re-run Blue Coral II? Remember stumbling out of the jungle with bruised and bloodied shins, reaching the runsite not far off 10pm on both occasions? Remember how we feted Cinderella for giving us such a great time? Remember? Well, many BC vets were eagerly anticipating a repeat performance on Pulau Ubin. alas, it was not meant to be, with first runners back in the comparative blinking of an eye after 1 hour 14 mins. and the whole pack home before 7:45pm.

"The beer wagon will not be at Changi Village" warned the newsletter and thus the full pack were all on the island in time for a 6:10 start and non-running latecomers were probably nil.

Considering the nationality of the Hares, the run was quite good, really. I was told that there were five checks including the recording breaking first check which took as long to reach as some complete past runs (e.g. the James Abey runs). Notable events from my vantage point - Syphilis stumbled and crashed to the ground but being so well padded suffered no injury. Another weight - related incident saw Gunsmoke snap a plank and land in a ditch filled with stagnant water and rotting coconuts. And all the time it rained. The run was a good mixture of shingle and mud tracks, orchards, jungle and fish/ prawn farms, wading through a pond and then a triumphant saunter through downtown Ubin city with the entire population lining the streets and cheering us on. Waiting for us were the two Hares who dished out T Shirts - nice front (same design as last year's, different colour) nice back reminding us of the Aussies' deep and undying love of Pommies (same as recent celebration run magazine ad) and only three spelling mistakes.

The circle was held on the beach, Mad Dog being influenced by the brevity of the run, whipped a record minimum number in quick fashion.

Food was plentiful - curried chicken and hepatitis safe Char Kuay Teow. I also noticed some cans of Anchor . . . All in all, good event witnessed by a good turn out.

HASH

UPDATED

or the Gospel, according to
Bill BABYFACE Gartshore

ON-ON

Useful word due to wide variety of meanings e.g. call by JM starting run, denoting paper found after a check, term for venue after wagon depleted of beer (sometimes called on-on-on and on occasions on-on-on and so on).

CHECK

Time for a breather. A few members still interpret this as a signal to rush around trying to find the trail although this is fast disappearing on Seletar Hash.

FALSE TRAIL

The SCB's best friend.

SCB

Term used to refer to the wiser, more experienced hasher meaning in full "Sensible, Clever Bloke" due to innate navigational skills and years of experience with the terrain.

FRB

Term for younger, less experienced members meaning "Foolish, Raw Beginners" due to their inability to find short cuts and to hold checks. They are usually last to arrive back at the run site and so miss out on some beer. Despite their obvious shortcomings, many are befriended by SCB's and some even learn eventually to become SCB's themselves.

HASH WHIP

A man of immense wisdom and fairness, a veritable Solomon who only dishes out punishment for serious crimes and when there really is no alternative. He is all-knowing, even down to trivia such as who wrote this description.

WAGON

A much revered holy place. In no way related to this term "on the wagon".

RECCE

Another fast diminishing habit which is also closely related to the hash shit award in that the number of recces are in inverse proportion to the likelihood of achieving the covered award.

DOWN DOWN

A ritual designed to reward a member for a special or notable performance such as ultra short cutting or changing in full view of the fairer sex. The ritual is the rapid consumption of a mug of beer although on very special occasions a larger volume piss-pot is used and, when directed by Hash Whip, is performed seated on a block of ice, the ultimate accolade.

LAST BEERS

A chilling, dread cry made sometimes mockingly by a cruel Hash brew advising depletion of the wagon's stock. It is the signal to adjourn to a pub for some beer.

SECOND ROUND

A call for HANS SOLO to go for his fourth or fifth round of makan.

BOO

Call to clear stray dogs and small children from the path of on-rushing hashmen. Also name denoting an expert reverse trail runner and "multi short-cutter" - short cuts so numerous they amount to a distance longer than the laid trail.

HASH HUSH

When the number of hashmen gabbling away after a run reduces to a mere 50% generally when under threat from the Hash Whip at the Circle announcements.

BLUE CORAL

The name of an indigenous venomous snake but now more commonly used to describe a particularly bad or overlong run e.g. "it was a right blue coral". The origin of this new meaning is lost in the mists of MacRitchie forest.

CINDERELLA

A recently adopted expletive sometimes used as alternative to 'Blue Coral' (see 'Blue Coral')

BUS RUN

Term used to describe an unimaginative run usually adopted by hares who are incapable of laying a trail which starts and ends in the same place with an interesting and good length run in between.

HOLDING A CHECK

No, not delaying payment U.S. style - this is an ancient custom whereby front-runners would wait at a check for a spread out tail of back-runners to catch us. It is common nowadays? Have you seen a Dodo recently?

CHECKING

What 90% of the pack call, hoping that 1-% will do.

MAD DOGS

These are normally seen in rural areas spitting froth and barking like Billy-O, mercifully from behind the safety of a chicken wire cage. But beware, they can take human form. For more information talk to ex-whip George Petty at his kennel.

CALLING

Something you do when on or off-paper (lost). Sometimes, after repeated screams of "ARE YOU?" a faint whisper of "ON ON" can be heard in reply. Nowadays, it is understood that being a front-runner absolves one of the need to call.

TAXI

Originally the hash name of one Claude Ricca who got lost and returned by cab too many times to re-count. It has now developed in to a very "to run in opposite direction of all logic and in the face of obvious signs (not to mention paper), to pass from sight, vanish, be lost, depart e.g. "Where's William?" "He's done a taxi". (Second thoughts, maybe it's a noun, too.)

BLUE CORAL II

They say history has a habit of repeating itself. Well, it did this time. Blue Coral II, is merely the second of two Kevin Parnell specials. To have lived through both Blue Corals is a mark of great distinction. so Kevin returned and disappeared down-under with the memory of his parting gift etched like carved granite in the minds of the brave few.

WARNING

He is back.

ANAPHYLACTIC SHOCK

Sounds like an aid for safe sex but it's a symptom of an attack by wasps, hornets or bees. Can be very nasty indeed. So stay away from flying insects. For more information check with James "Shock" Sando.

ANG MO KIO HASH

Fancy a hash which has done away with the running part? Follow the street signs to AMK on a Saturday afternoon.

BICYCLE HASH

When hashmen grow older and richer, they buy mountain bikes and spend weekends riding around jungles and falling off. Baljit is planning to go one better - Motorbike hash.

ROTI JOHN

In Seletar hashpeak, this term means 'no thanks, I'll eat something later'.

RUN SITE

Information kept secret by JMs until the very last moment. Recently, trend established of actually printing run sites venues in weekly newsletter. It won't catch on.

Established June 1980

OBITUARY

FAREWELL GUNSMOKE

You will always be on our minds, Gunsmoke.

It's with choked emotions and tearful sentiments that we pay tribute to a popular and unassuming hashman, who died tragically in a road accident.

Words cannot express the rude shock in the early hours of July 24 when Seletar Hashmen heard of the tragic death of Amerjeet 'Gunsmoke' Singh Dhillon.

He was riding home after a prolonged hashing Tuesday when his scooter collided with a car along the Pan-Island Expressway, near Corporation Road, at about 1.40am.

Gunsmoke was a beer-y legend in his own way.

Always humble and modest as he unassumingly rode in for hash-runs on his scooter, with the trademark of an infectious and amusing smile on his face.

We will remember him as a simple and soft-spoken hashman, who enjoyed his beer.

Yes, he tried the odd short-cuts. Yes, he thrived on the 'ice'.

Yes, Gunsmoke was always willing to be in the thick of hash-action, clowning and joking in his own discreet way.

Yet, more, more, more importantly, Gunsmoke seldom said 'No'. Unfailingly offering to help anyone 'quash' a traffic ticket to arranging a hash social event.

We have lost - for the first time in Seletar's history - a bloody good-humoured, simple-minded hashman.

Do say a prayer and help Gunsmoke's family, in the very best tradition of Seletar Hash - the caring hash.

Gunsmoke leaves behind wife, Balvinder, and 18-year-old son, Davinder, who is studying at the St Andrew's Junior College.

Rest in peace, Gunsmoke. Come Tuesdays, we will miss the very rare 'smoke' you always throw.

There will never be another Gunsmoke of Dhillon's class. Really, you will always be on our minds.

HASH

• Compiled from thrash literature secretly submitted to SHOELACE

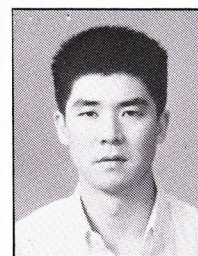

William 'Sayeting' Cheng:
Former Grandmaster. Hashman since 1982. Tries never to miss Tuesday runs. Part-time business running a pub in Bukit Timah called, quite aptly, My Wife's Place.

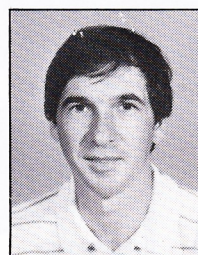

Lim 'Opto' Kuang Hui:
A leading eye specialist by profession, Opto has 'eyes' for other recreation, too. A self-confessed hashtorian, he believes in the theory that "every run is a good run". Editor of this hash-y souvenir magazine.

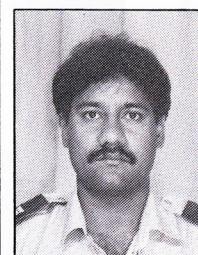

Jim 'Catfish' Carroll:
Second hash name is 'Beautiful Bastard'. An engineer who loathes Wednesday mornings after the Tuesday's hangers. Fishy, isn't he?

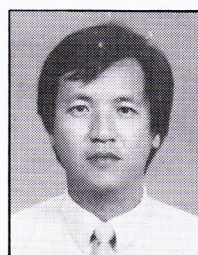

Ng 'Messy' Hock Leng:
A self-confessed trash collector, his messiest region is his head where the porcupine-like hair reflects his mentality - always on the rise.

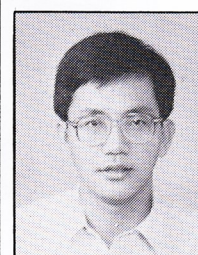

Stuart 'Ice' Davis:
This sales manager joined the hash after the inaugural run, hared by Babyface, lasted only 24 minutes. Kid-stuff, Ice thought, so he joined. He has always been icy since then.

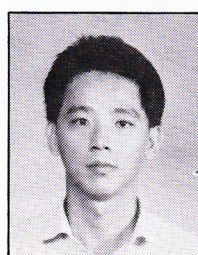

Narindar 'Kichibai' Singh:
To the uninitiated, the hashname means 'Little Brother'. But he's a hulk of a man especially when the fairer sex are around. His biggest thrill was handing over the Jointmaster post in 1988/89 season.

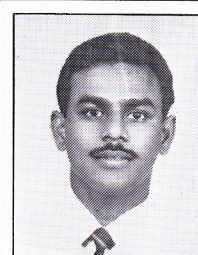

Lawrence 'Wrong Size' Wong:
He is the man you must meet. Our Hash Brew, who controls the booze. But like his name, he's no fanatic boozier but remains sober enough to carry the drunkards back home.

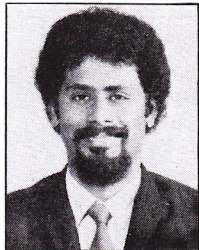

Fong 'Ah Wai' Kok Wai:
An innocent-looking engineer. But don't get fooled by his looks. Like a wolf in sheep's clothing, Ah Wai's a horny character after a few drinks.

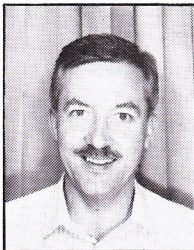

Gan 'Tomato' Gan Choo Khim:
Project manager whose biggest project to date has been convincing hashmen that beer's only sweetest when mixed with tomato juice. But the tomato-beer cocktail has kept him sober when his contemporaries fall like nine-pins.

'Popeye' Silvarajoo:
Our Grandmaster, who was over the moon when he got the post. His greatest moment in Seletar. An insurance agent, he sells his policies at golf course and collects the premiums at his favourite drinking holes.

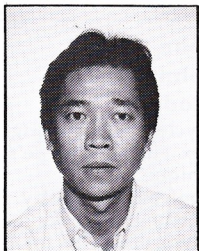

Charles 'Palerider' Shanmugaraj:
The Hash Bard, whose favourite companion (besides the bottle) is his guitar. Guest compatriot at sing-alongs, where he can rap up the audience, if he stays sober.

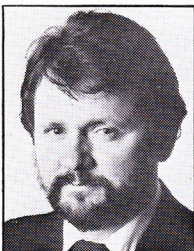

Duncan 'Doughnut' Smith:
A dedicated Jointmaster. Loves his bottle as much as Joe Jo (ask him, who's she). Plays soccer for a drink-ing-league team called 'Coldbar Tigers'. Got to be nuts?

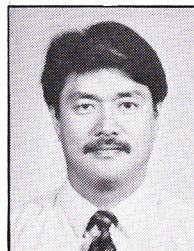

Suresh 'Shoelace' Nair:
The Hash Sweep, who tries to keep the pack every Tuesday on the bottle trail straight to the beer-wagon. A journalist who's seldom in the office but files stories from the pubs, if he can keep his long shoelaces straight.

Albert 'Heckle' Lim:
Assistant Cash, who wildly hashes for the money when it's pay-day. No pay, no beer, no hash. Lately, he has started investing the hash-money in new found princely paradises in Cambodia, hoping to start the Sihanouk Hash House Harriers.

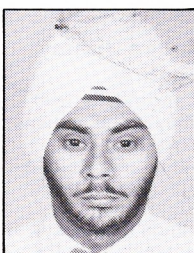

Bill 'Babyface' Gartshore:
Don't be fooled by his kiddy looks. He advertises audaciously for other people's wives, living up to his profession as a managing director of his own advertising firm. He was Joint Master in 1988. Catch Babyface at the Singapore Cricket Club bar, if he's not already down on the floor most evenings.

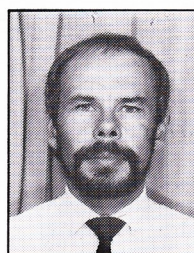

Leon 'Nuts' Lui:
Must be a nut of the top order whose self-confessed philosophy is: "He who shits also farts". Loves taking the shit whenever he sets a run. Been with Sandakan Hash and Medan Hash.

Ewing 'Gigi' Chan:
A toothwright who pulls teeth simply for a beer. Home for him is at Singapore General Hospital, close to the mortuary (best place for a hangover). Veteran hashman who has clocked 150 short-cuts in six years. Excelled as hard-working Jointmaster last year.

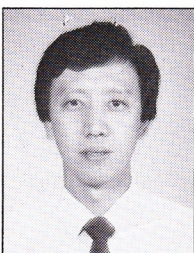

Raghbir 'Hans Solo' Singh:
Like most of his turbaned countrymen, he's a suspicious sole proprietor. Loves playing it one-to-one, naturally from the back. Sole preoccupation being hashing and beer-ing, he has clocked 400 runs. Drives a Turban (Solo version of Turbo), which speeds solely on booze.

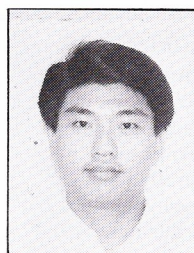

Mike 'Irian Jaya' Hansen:
His looks tell you he's genuinely a long-lost aborigine. He sets the pace for Tuesday runs and proves his unique jungle instincts. Jointmaster last year he's a regional financial controller for British Petroleum. His days may be numbered with Seletar, so we hear.

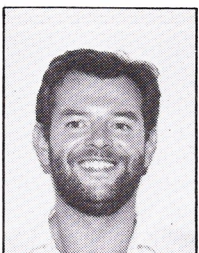

Ong 'Opera' Chin Chai:
Playmaker. Funman. Clown. A real boozy entertainer, whose infectious smile can turn on any elderly woman. Looks attractive after major facial operation last year following a car crash - naturally after a Tuesday hangover run. Hash Cash last year.

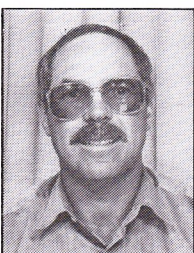

Eddie 'Straight Spout' Poh:
Turns a lot of animals on, on, on during Tuesday runs when his spout stands straight - which is quite a mess considering the only thing straight about him is when he hangs on to his beer bottle, upside down.

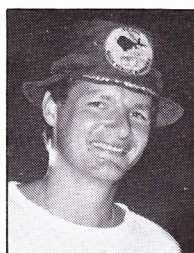

Lim 'Giveaway' Chin Hwee:
He always gives himself away with his togo philosophy - drink, drank and drunk. Loves the post-makan sing-a-long session, without any lyrics.

Chris 'Singapore Sling' Conway:
New boot who slinged his way only in March. A planning engineer by profession, who is usually sober only when he plays soccer and hits those lovable rugby-like-conversion shots between the posts. Aussie-rules?

Billy 'Cha Cha Cha' Melling:
Tea dances (with Filipino gals) are his favourite past-time. Low profile chap, who once bragged he escaped the 'ice' for eight weeks, until he was almost drowned on the ninth. Claims to be a former British semi-pro soccer player albeit he kicks balls (of the smaller, lower size) pretty well.

Peter 'Muffdiver' Dehio:
You're going to miss our Hash Whip' cos he's screwing somewhere in Hawaii, if he is really honeymoon-ing with new hash-bride, Kelly. He roles up as an officer-boy and managing director, having travelled extensively in East Asia. Peter was Grandmaster of China Hash last year.

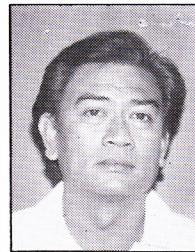

Michael 'Crotch' Croft:

He really looks better than this crotchty photo. In the helicopter business, he really turns on the kids during alternate Sundays when he almost singularly manages the Hash House Horrors. Lovable 'Uncle Mike' to the future generation of young hashies.

Thia 'First Blood' Kiem Lien:

The Hash Cash, who is a real Rambo when collecting unpaid bills. He really draws blood out of the defaulters by sucking it out on their beers.

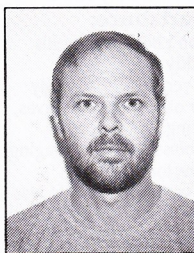

Mohamed 'Ali' Jais:

Liked his legendary boxing namesake, Ali floats like a beer-fly and stings like a bee-r. Sole surviving Malay, whose presence is enough to chase away his countrymen. He was Hash bard in 1987-88. Simply put in, Ali.

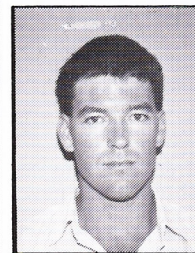

George 'Mad Dog' Petty:

Down Under is where this Aussie really belongs. Tiger seller at an infamous hash-pub named after him at Crown Centre in Bukit Timah Road, usually patronised by the four-leggeds. The respected Hash Whip last year.

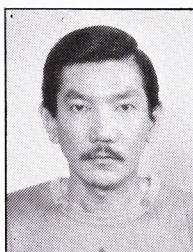

Nigel 'Batman' Harrison:

This bearded engineer's always finding for his Robin after a couple of drinks when he gets quite bad. (or bat). Alison, please help!

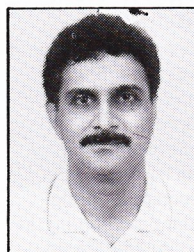

John 'Johor Johnnie' Hodgson:

Cycles while having sex - that's Johnnie's unique self-confessed specialty. Pretty good diver (by profession, seriously) whose greatest hash moment is seeing the committee on the ice!

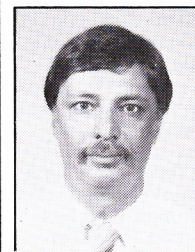

Billy 'Slick' Wong:

Fierce-looking but this Chinaman's really a slick pussy. Nudely says he manages a 'red hot' club across the Causeway (not the Mechinta).

Mohan 'Jimmy' Singh:

Grandmaster in 1986/87, he's always occupied - and that's the hole-of-a-truth. Never fears hangovers as he spends most days of the week after the Tuesday run in hospital. Known as 'Mr Entertainer' at the Singapore Recreation Club - ask him why.

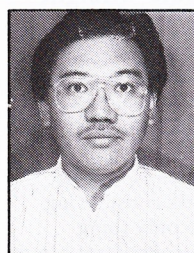

Jogjee 'Jog' Singh:

Simply jog for a beer. A veteran traffic copper, he strictly goes by the book and nabs drivers or riders who are straight and sober. He insists on a bottle to escape the dreaded ticket. He prides in being the first hashman to complete 52 runs in one year. How many weeks are there really in 12 months?

Kulbir 'Coolbeer' Singh:

A cool-man who absolutely detests warm beer. He literally rides on those who does not do business with him. Soft-spoken, high or sober, he's one of the coolest short-cutters.

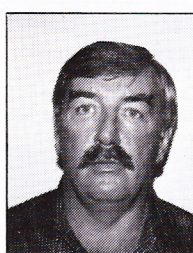

Darryl 'Jekle' Lai:

Manager, somewhere in the East Coast, whose pre-occupation during the day is only in pubs with, of course, the skirts. Some say he dreads the 'ice' but always jekles the icy spot most Tuesdays.

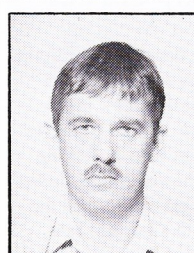

'Boo' Moh Cheh:

Boos around with three hashes - Singapore Hash, Lion City Hash and Seletar Hash - really just to clock his insurance brokerage fees. Prides in laying the only 'one way' run for Seletar in 1984. It turned out to be a 'non-run'. Boo to you.

Paul 'Fukawe' Harnett:

For the uninitiated, he got his name because he utters the dreaded 'F---' everytime he pants. God knows how this cement engineer performs in bed. Where are we, Paul?

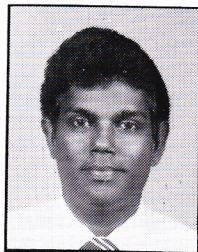

Steve 'Wingnut' Page:

The Inter-Hash Secretary who spends half his time duty-freeing with Labuan H3. Says he locks every bit of his hash trash in his car boot. Presently holidaying in Britain.

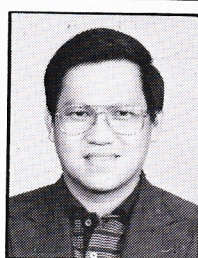

Philip 'Shades' Ying:

Believe this shady character if he tells you he's a brolly dealer? He loves all kinds of hot stuff - smelling them, really.

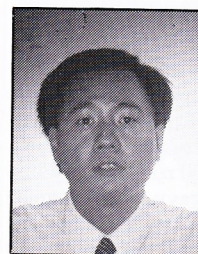

Linus 'Skidmarks' Manuel:

Interior designer, who proudly has a world-record collection of hash T-shirts. Used to be active hashman, once clocking 52 runs during the 1985 season. Mark this skidder, Jogjee?

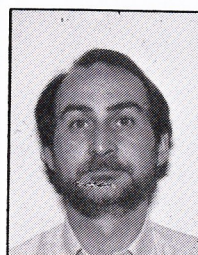

Peter 'Derby' Yap:

Five-star hashman who wrote a recent article entitled: "Trust - A hasher's dilemma". That must rank as a hash derby.

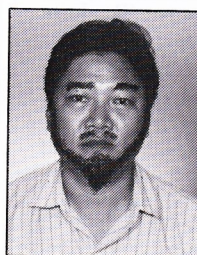

Terence 'Empty Box' Tan:

Always with this empty poser - To drink or not to run. His greatest moment in Seletar: If I do not have to set the run. Box this empty hashman!

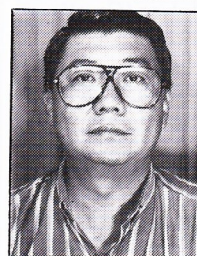

Paul 'Two Wheels' Beale:

Some say he got his name after he lost his balls. But the two wheels' enough to motivate this petroleum engineer to gallantly rise (and naturally strike) when the occasion demands.

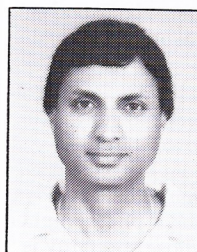

Vincent 'Press Once' Ying:

Married to Amy Yip, he ogles for a living. But going by his looks he can only flirt or press once with the retired whores. Looks forward to reaching 1,000 runs in 2004 - if he's still running strong. On-Secretary in 1990.

Lian 'Suku' Sek Kuan:

Always a live-wire on Tuesday runs. Merchant of fun and frolic, his business is in catching the newcomers and making them serve the beers (if not the women). New boots, where's the beer?

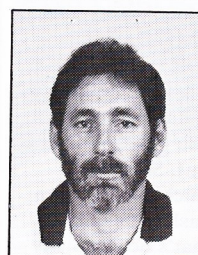

Rajiv 'Peter Sellers' Chaudhury:

Smashing guy who is the Jointmaster. Tea broker by profession who is married to a former beauty queen. That's a true seller's charm. He enjoys scuba diving and a bloody good head!

Trevor 'Marlin' Jones:

Catch me if you can, you cunts, if your bait's a floatable crate of beer! Hashing and fishing are Trevor's favourite. Extraordinary fish, this chap thrives in ducking all committee work.

Milton 'Tools' Edwards:

He has worked in places you probably can't pronounce - from Kerteh, Kuala Belait and Duri. Grandmaster of Duri HHH and Kuala Belait HHH before coming to Singapore. Really believe this tool?

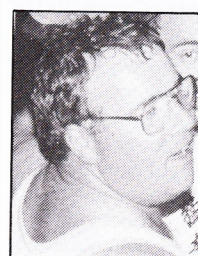

'Toddy Mama' Ramasamy:

Lawyer who swears by the toddy that he is not a mama. Grandmaster in 1988/89 season. He promises to defend anyone charged on the ice, if only to prolong the cold agony.

Richard 'Fer' Yeo:

Smiling, feral character who's quite wild when high. Sheer greed for booze forced him to invest in two drinking holes but his business really is in finding the tight holes.

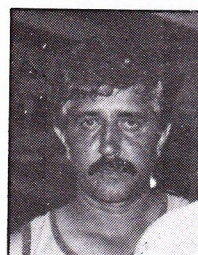

Bruce 'Twinkle Toes' Donaldson:

You really believe this oversized hulk can twinkle his third-leg? Always holding his pint-sized tape-recorder on Tuesdays to record the shouts and screams from the circle for the weekly newsletter, The Seletar Guzzler. Bruce's got the twinkle task of On-Secretary. But he's seldom on his toes!

Dick 'Dirty Hacker' Roark:

Mary (the Clean Hacker) should tell us how she roark-ed him. But the veteran hashman used to be a lady-charmer before his hair receded. Sporting hack-of-a-fellow really, he was a reliable Inter-Hash Secretary in 1990.

Amarjeet 'Gunsmoke' Singh:

Sole scooter rider in Seletar. Traffic cop with a heart who seldom fails to help law-less hashmen. Died in tragic road crash on July 24. We will miss your 'Smoke' on Tuesdays.

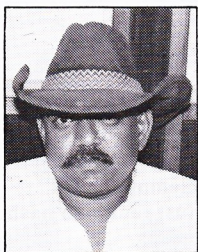

Abtar 'Champ' Singh:

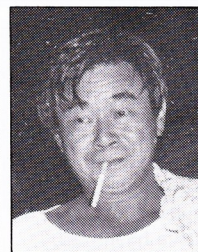

No question why he's the champ (and not the chimp) when he downs his beer before you can even wink. Great drinking companion, who is stationed in Kuala Lumpur but faithfully loyal to Seletar.

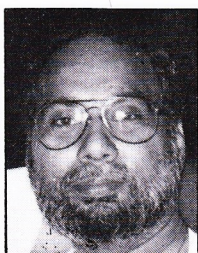

James 'Winnie The Pooh' Sandosham:
Founder Grandmaster of Seletar. Clocked more than 400 runs despite his heavy work commitments, spying as an Air Force major. Loves beer but fears bees. Pooh-pooh?

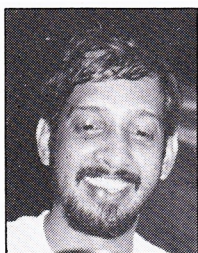

'Hash Flasher' Kurusamy:
Cowboy-styled mama. The man who single-handedly snapped all the photographs in this magazine. Camera has always stayed intact despite the flying bottles when he's tippy-tipsy. Well done, Flash!

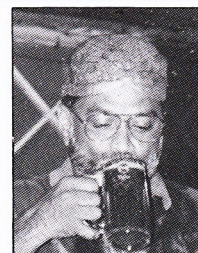

Voo 'Ah Meng' Boo Meng:
If your car breaks down, don't bring it to the Zoo. Seletar's Meng (unlike his Orang Utan namesake) a mechanic specialist, always handling the screws with a beer-y hand.

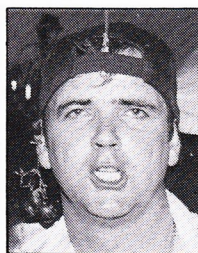

Mehar 'Cunt' Singh:
Former Jointmaster, who's an inspiring veteran hash. Pretty good cook, he can roast any four-legged female, leaving aside, of course, the cunt.

James 'Broken Promises' Abeyratne:
Perfectly lives up to his name. Make an appointment and find out. Known to hide-out at the Ceylon Sports Club - and that's a promise.

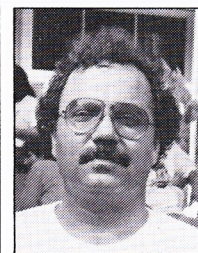

Matt 'Cushy Koshy':
Close to being a millionaire hasher. Travels frequently to East Asia, leading to a prolonged absence with Seletar. But heart's still with the Guzzlers.

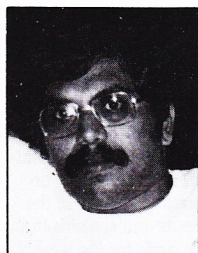

Rod 'Chicken Shit' Barret:
Nerve-wire with Seletar who always ends up with (yes, you guessed it) the shit. Seldom chickens out for a hash-cause. And that's not a shit-ty thrash!

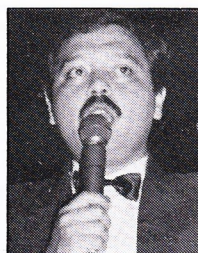

Cherian "Doc" Thomas:
Got a hangover, see the Hash-Doc for the perfect anti-beer prescription. Quiet, unassuming but most of the time prefers to hear the cash-box jingles in his clinic. What's up, Doc?

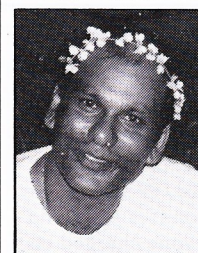

Raspal 'Guzzler' Singh:
The original hashman. Extraordinary guzzling power reflected from his prosperous waist-line. Professional photographer, whose speciality is snapping Peeping Toms (with two beers in hand).

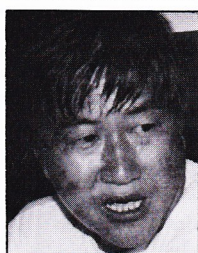

Bala 'Green Balls' Abhilash:
Doctor whose is seldom around when there's any overdose. Pretty caught downing the beverages in his cosy clinic. Don't turn green, doc!

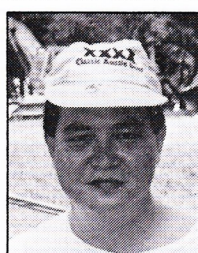

Martin 'Salami Marbok' Baptist:
Another "orang tua" who founded Seletar a decade ago. Jointmaster in 1981/82. Claims he commands an air force base with disciples of hash-pilots. Hulk-of-a-guy who can also play soccer, with a bottle tucked behind his shorts-pocket.

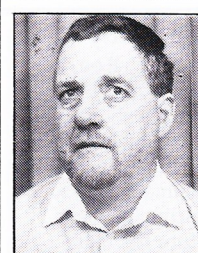

'Fatimah' Anthonysamy:
Gayish looking character (look at the flowery head-band) whose a warrant officer in the army, where the booze is dirt cheap. Has strange recurrences of heart problems primarily because of beer-overdose. Fatimah's the regular Hash soccer goalkeeper.

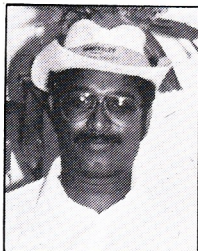

Eddie 'Ichibawasan' Yen:
Close to a record 550 runs. A Chinaman who knows almost all the paper trails in Singapore. Claims he can do any Tuesday run almost blindfolded, too, more because of his expertise as an Armed Forces officer.

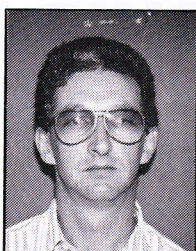

Seetoh 'K-9' Meng Kong:
Strange dislike for beer but regularly gets the kicks (and strengths) by sipping the cordials. Heard he got his hashname because he used to indulge in the import of dogs and bitches. Real canine hunger.

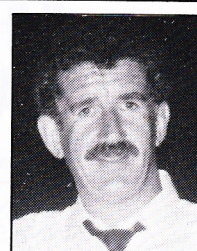

David Sterling:
Recent addition, yet to be beer-baptised. Struggles to keep pace with the pack during Tuesday runs. Admits he prays there'd be a few half-drunk beer cans around by the time he labours back (when the rest are packing up).

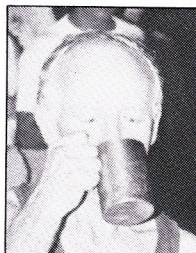

Samy 'Perut Besar' Govenda:
Hashname simply means "Big Tummy". And that's the sign of prosperity for this fanatically loyal Madrasman. Confesses he relishes the food more than the beer, giving him stomach-hangovers the next day.

Mike 'Racing Rat' Stone:
The Speedy Gonzales who's the fastest at grabbing the beers. Rat's a racer during the Tuesday runs, always among the front-pack, so he gets the first grab at the chilled booze. The "baby" of the Hash veterans' soccer team. Ask this mice: Why?

Kevin "Cinderella" Parnell:
Controversial Aussie who does the oddest things at the strangest times. But he's a barrel of fun, legged with memories of his feminine hashname. Some say he's a walking brewery.

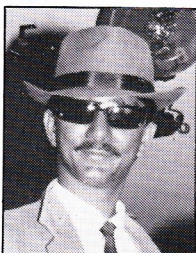

William 'Mr Guinness' Mosley:
Always prefers the stronger, more potent brew which stouts his ultra fit but ageing body. This lecturer is a genuine Guinness, always seen not without his mug. Oldest member of Seletar but one of the elites who has completed the marathon - and remained sober.

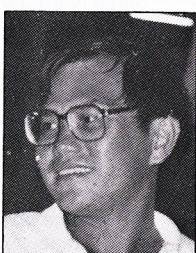

S. Mohandas:
Low-profiled, quiet-drinking mama - a rarity among his countrymen. Yet to be baptised because he sneakily makes himself seldom available when the circle starts. Disappearing Das? Or did someone say 'Snoopy'?

Phil 'Flutter' Yeutter:
Life member of Seletar. Flutter's out of town most of the time but solidly backs the local beers. Naval consultant who was a retired captain in the US Navy. Crates of beers are never short when Flutter's around - drinking most of it himself.

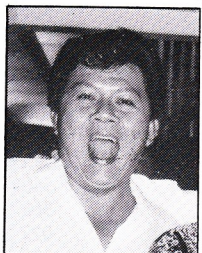

Selvam 'Tannaneh' Kumar:
Cool mama cat. Gifted singer/musician only after a few drinks. Aims to be a lawyer to take law-suits against the hashmen.

Tang 'Char Kwai Teow' Hock meng:
Sells special noodles soaked with beer - a hit in hash-town. He was the hash Sweeper last year. Prefers to blow the horn of the beer-bottle.

Baljit 'Budgie' Singh:
Heart's with the high sea, having spend most of his life out-of-land with the enormous booze flowing without any limit. Budgie's land-bound because of a serious motorbike crash, which has left him in crutches, where he has a specially designed compartment for his favourite bottles.

Ting 'Perfect' Thijn Hock:
Thinks he is excellently the best. But still trying how to perfectly drink without slipping. Jovial chap who is a military major. What's the perfect rank, Sir?

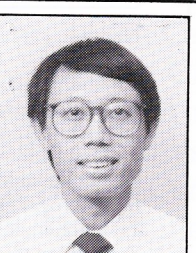

Jernail 'General' Singh:
Shipping magnate (or magnet) whose heart's with Seletar despite his continued non-presence for the Tuesday runs. General-ly a OK-guy, lah!

Chong 'Hobie Cat' Kwek Fong:
Real cool hobby of collecting antique beer bottles (see distinct expression in photograph). Down-to-earth hashman with a popular following. He was the assistant secretary last year.

Jimmy 'Sai Baba' Tay:
Deftly using his sacred Himalayan charms, this baba just managed to make the cut. He believes he has as much power as his renowned namesake - after a couple of stengahs, of course.

Robert 'Deep Hole' Tan:
This arse-hole is in the deep end of hastrash because he scored a hole-in-last, submitting his ugly photograph after we went to print.

This slot is in hastrash-memory to the other 60-odd bastards who were too pissed to be featured. F.O. Cheers to the face-less guzzlers!

WOW!

Nobody has a better feeling for athletes.

There's a feeling every athlete strives to achieve. It's that point when you hit the ball and hear that sound and nobody has to tell you, you hit it just right. Now, imagine that feeling in a shoe. With the G.R.I.D. (Ground Reaction Inertia Device) System, Saucony has put the sweet spot into athletic footwear. The component parts of the G.R.I.D. System - Dome TRB (Torsional Rigidity Bar), the Cassette, the Midsole and the Motion Control Device work together to simultaneously absorb shock and control mediolateral motion. Two things necessary to every runner but never before offered by any running shoes. Until now. This breakthrough is the latest development in what runners have come to expect from Saucony. No gimmicks, just sound, logical and understandable evolutions through technology to building better and better athletic footwear. We call it The Science of WOW.
